Rochester City Council

Welcome to Summer!

Rochester is the place to be this summer! If you haven't checked out our many parks, pools or community centers recently, take a look and see what the City has to offer.

This summer, the City's R-Centers (Rochester Community Centers) offer an exciting, fresh take on recreation. Program offerings have been greatly expanded including new magnet sites for youth that focus on the arts, science, technology, sports, nature and the environment. Our ArtSmart and Youth Sports summer camps offer affordable, engaging daycare alternatives for city families. Visitors can also take advantage of a wide variety of amenities including new fitness facilities offered at several locations. Our aquatic programs, pools, water parks and Durand Beach provide a fun, safe way to learn to swim, join a swim team or just beat the heat. The City's many beautiful parks and playgrounds offer families an opportunity to get outside, stay active and get together. They feature courts, fields, playgrounds, picnic areas, and community gardens as well as quiet places to relax. Take advantage of our rental lodges and facilities to throw a family party or host a special event.

I invite everyone to come out, say hello and give Rochester recreation offerings a try. Have a fun, safe and active summer!

FIND IT ALL @ R-CENTERS

See What is Offered at an R-Center in Your Neighborhood!

Recreation and Community Centers across the city are getting a new name. Introducing R-Centers, a bold new take on city recreation.

The new R-Centers are more than just a new name, they are a complete rethinking of what it means to be a true community center. It is a promise to Rochester residents to be a positive force in the community that molds and changes lives. R-Centers strive to meet this mission by offering first-rate programs, facilities and professional staff to promote healthy living, education, creativity, self-discovery and positive relationships.

R-Centers programs have been revamped and expanded to bring exciting new opportunities for youth to grow and have fun. From the environmental education program, Earth Explorers, to the youth empowerment group Youth Voice,

One Vision, city youth are given the chance to learn from experts, share their insights with each other and develop tools they need to become healthy responsible adults. In addition to established programs, new magnet site programs have been created to allow youth to dive in and explore subjects that capture their interest. Subjects include; the arts, science, technology, sports, nature and the environment. Youth are able to enroll in an R-center magnet site and become fully emerged in an educational genre that sparks their imagination and passion through projects, activities and play.

Step into an R-center and you will be surprised to see what is available. In addition to playgrounds and sports facilities, many sites boast new computer labs, performance spaces, pools and even a state of the art recording studio. Many R-Center's fitness facilities have been newly upgraded to rival anything that private health clubs have to offer.

You R Already A Member

R-Centers are a great place to stay fit, learn something new, express yourself and meet new friends. The best part is, as a City resident, you are already a member. There is no need to pay expensive membership fees. If you haven't visited a Rochester Community Center recently, visit an R-Center in your neighborhood and take advantage of all that is available to you.
